

Abstract

Immunologically invisible carrier molecules connect a plurality of copies of an immunologically active molecule in an immunologic assay.